LYMAN LITTLE,

MORNING LEADER. MONDAY MORNING, MAY 8, 1861.

For the Leader "BEND THEM TENDERLY." Oh, bear them gently, gently bear The bruised forms; preserve with care, And place upon the funeral train The bodies of our soldiers-slain; And send them touderly.

Emshrouded in the stripes and stars-Their broken boncs—their ornel sears— Their batter d halmets by their side— Will prove for what, and how they died; So bear them tenderly. Not by a worthy forman's blade-

Not in the battle's grim parade— Yet 'meath our flag their blood will tell That by a felon's hand they felt; Then send them tenderly !

Yes, precious, holy is their clay-For millions claim a right to pay Their homage here; while high and higher From every Patriot's alter fire The fiame-by blood renewed-shall rise, And in each morning's sacrifice And in each morning.

He'll bear them tenderly.

lows: We are living-we are dwelling-in a grand and awful time. Each day is pregnant with events, and the country has but patiently to wait the coming of results, to be assur-ed that we have indeed a Government and a governing policy. From the President to the lowest official, all are busy with prepara-tions for the approaching movement. Special agents are dispatched from all the organizing departments to the several Navy Yards and army posts, who are directed forthwith and speedily to place all things in perfect or

On Monday, at the furthest, let the coun try be prepared for a proclamation from the President. He has determined upon setive, Instant, decisive, and compresensive action.
The time has arrived when, in accordance with the doctrines announced in his Inaugural, the Precident will proceed to repossess the property of the United States.

Seventy thousand volunteers, twenty-five thousand regulars, and eighteen thousard mayal force, are shortly to proceed upon this important mission, and their march, truly the march of mighty armies, will not falter until be whose right it is to rule shall be recognized from one end of the land to the

The Southern Privateers. A Southern latter gives the following notes of the preparations for war which are being made by the rebels:

made by the rebels:

It has been said that every privateer vessel was to be supplied with an eight or ten inch Columbiad, and with a picked crew. In case of an attempt at blookade, it was proposed to arm a number of steam tugs with one or two Columbiads each, and so, with a little fleet, drive off or sink any presumptions craft who should dare attempt to carry out Lincoln's threst. It was argued, too, that France and England would never permit a blockade. Cotton they must and would have; and so, and Engished would never permit a blockade. Cotton they must and would have; and so, when the coming crop is ready, they think these Powers will see that it is attainable.—
This is a common threat A "divided North," too, was their great dependence, though in common talk we are designated as d—d Yantees. A report that the Seventh Regiment of New York has been "cut to pieces" near Appapolis, was current and cree ally near Annapolis, was current and gene ally rejoiced at the morning our informant left. No conception of the unanimity of the North in defence of the Union had dawned upon Two large mortars and a large number of bombs were being taken as treight on the train in which our informant took pas-into their hands portions of their own small store, which were as gratefully received as they were willingly bestowed.

This meeting, a collection was made to formish them with a good supply of provisions in return for their services on the road from Annepolis, in laying rails, repairing the engine, &c., and just now, as I persed through the rotunda, there was a non-commissioned officer mounted on the staircass to the dome explaining to the Massachusetts men, who were drawn up in order around the dome explaining to the Massachusetts when the former should be some state of the state of th press give these items: The precipitation of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennesses into the secession movement was the immediate occasion of the second call for an additional force of sixty-five BC For Telegraphic News and Markets thousand volunteers. Gen. Boots was confident of being able to put down the rebellion in the cetten and sugar States with the sev-enty-five thousand first called out. Should the rebellion spread still further in the border slave States, a third call will unquestionably be made. As it is, the placing of large re-serves upon a war feeting in all the free States will enable the government to use the whole of she one hundred and sixty thousand men summoned into service for offensive operations, the reserve forces being more than sufficient for home defence. The Navy Department expects to have at least fifteen men-of-war put to see for the blockade of the principal Southern ports in a few days. Some forty odd more vessels will be got in readiness in the course of the next four weeks, and in less than sixty days every inlet on the Southern coast, from the mouth of James river to that of the Rio Grande, will be effectually closed.

The slaves ere an element of weakness which the South seem strangely to have forgotten. Information reaches us that in Louislana and Mississippi serious apprehensions are entertained. In Kentucky the negroes say openly that this is a war to free them, and that they will soon be as free as any

I learn from a perfectly reliable source that the 1,500 secession troops lately quartered at Alexandria yesterday started for a point The War Programme.

A Washington dispatch to the New York ribune gives the war programme, as follows:

The War Programme.

A Washington dispatch to the New York in that neighborhood. Only 60 secession troops are left in Alexandria. My informant states that the people of the ... Jacent countries the people of the ... Jacent cou ties in Virginia are beginning to be anxious for an invasion from Washington, to protect them from the Virgiula troops, who seize their horses, cattle and anything else which they want, and hand them Virginia script in payment. aderstood to be in Culpepper county.

Messra. Evarts and Weed, of the New York Committee of Public Defence, who were sent on to confer with the President as to the policy to be pursued for the present crisis, started on their return last evening. They had a long interview with the President, and return well satisfied that the Administration is united, frily understands the impending crisis, and has determined upon a line of policy which will be sustained by the people, and will vindicate the power and majesty of the to be pursued for the present crisis, started Government.

Of course, the Committee do not disclose the details of the policy decided upon. They also express unbounded confidence in Lieut. Gen. Scott, who has laid a plan of a campaign which adds new evidence of his remarkable military genius, and shows that the long life which has enfectled his physical system, has brought him invaluable experi-ence, and left him still with intellect as vigprous and as keenly alive to the necessities of the hour as when in his prime maturity h led our victorious army to the gates of Mex-

Without professing any knowledge on the su'nject, I am well satisfied that the Lieutenant General's plans, which have been fully accepted and endorsed by the President, include the capture of Charleston and of Nor-folk, and did include the occupation of Baltimore if that city ad continued to oppose obstacles to the quiet passage of troops to-ward the Capital. But the leading idea of the campaign is that of shutting the disloyal States in, and isolating them from the rest of the world until they have time for reflection upon their own folly, and to retrace their cowardly boys, when pent up on ship board without a chance of escape, they gather courage from despair, and figur desperately. But with ninety-uine Northern men in a hundred, on all occasions, duty, houor, patriotism, has ever been considered, and will ever be considered, a mere matter of profit and loss. Since the days of Washington, they have ever deemed that course of conduct by which most money is made and least risk incurred, the most virtuous and honorable.

They will not come to Washington, they cannot be handcuffed and driven to Washington, if we will only precede them and let them see that they will have to fight for glory, and not for spoils and plander. They never did fight, and never will fight, except for pay, for pillage, and plunder. Once sat lefy them that no money is to be made, no sender to be gotten by invading the South, and no powe. on earth can lash and kick them south of Ma. on and Dixon's line.
